Pair of Bald Eagles
on Bois d'Arc Lake;
Help Protect Them

Gary Formby of the Hope staff of Arkansas Game & Fish Commission reported to your editor this morning that a male and female bald eagle have taken up residence in the woods surrounding Bois d'Arc Lake—and suggested we publish this in the hope that they are permitted to nest and make Bois d'Arc their permanent home.

There is a dispute among outdoorsmen about the wisdom of such publication, some holding that there are just enough skunks in the human family to raise the risk that they will make use of this notice to locate and kill these giant birds.

But the bald eagle is threatened with extinction, and, as America's national emblem, it is protected by all the laws in the game book. Whoever is crazy enough to molest one runs the risk of going to a federal penitentiary.

Our notice, therefore, is an appeal to all outdoorsmen to help keep a watch on our guests. If they vanish under suspicious circumstances The Star will post a $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of the marauder. We'll report further on our bald eagles—and trust all wildlife lovers will close ranks in their defense.

I've seen but one bald eagle in the wilds, in all my life—on the eastern edge of Narrows Lake in February several years back when I was showing the lake to L. C. Denney, L. & A. locomotive engineer—an incident I reported in a recent column.

But the big bird seldom comes our way except to feed on shad in late winter—and I believe this is the first time a pair have been sighted in our county.

New Bank Is Opened at Ashdown

Arkansas' newest bank held a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony in Ashdown Sunday afternoon. The opening program was concluded when H. C. Adams, State Bank Commissioner, cut the ribbon marking the official opening of the Bank of Ashdown.

Organizers of the Bank of Ashdown first applied for a charter in 1966, and saw their dream come true with the activities Sunday. The original group of organizers - John T. Bogard, James A. Gunter, Jr., Eunice F. Spigner, Wesley M. Strange, and Martha Edmonson - are currently Directors of the Bank.

The charter was awarded October 8, 1970. The Bank begins operation Monday with $150,000 capital, $150,000 surplus, and $90,000 undivided profits. There are 15,000 shares of common stock authorized. Ownership is divided between 130 stockholders all of whom are Little River County residents.

Bill L. Brown joined the Bank last December as President and Chief Executive Officer. Brown, a Bodcaw native, has 17 years of banking experience. During the past two years he served as Vice President - Cashier and a Director of First State Bank of Joplin. Brown went to Joplin from First National Bank of Magnolia. He has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Bank of Ashdown.

Robert L. Dennis is Vice President and Cashier of the Bank. Dennis comes to Ashdown from First National Bank of Hope, where he was an Assistant Vice President.

In addition to Brown and Dennis, the staff of the Bank consist of Janice Parkhill, Judy

First Snow of Winter Covers Hope, Area

—Hope, (Ark.) Star photos

This was the scene at midmorning Monday at Fair Park following the first snow of the year and winter last night. The official measurement was 1 1/4 inches. Despite bright sunshine Monday the snow was not melting very rapidly as biting cold continued. This was the first measurable snowfall since January 1970.

The temperature fell to a winter record of 16 degrees last night and the high for the 24-hour period was 39 degrees. The coldest day in 1970 was 8 degrees recorded on January 9, according to the Experiment Station. The forecast calls for even colder weather Monday night with 5-15 degrees for south and southwest Arkansas.

Hempstead Residents Let Representative Know How They Stand

By Mack McLarty,
State Representative,
Hempstead County

One of the most encouraging things about serving as your representative is the interest which you show in state government.

Before the session began we mailed you a questionnaire. The purpose was to seek your feelings regarding issues which I felt might arise in the House in this session.

I have told many of our fellow legislators about this questionnaire and they were amazed at the response. 54 per cent (more than 2,500) of you returned the form. The National average on direct mail return is somewhere around 11 per cent. I

Hospital Vote at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Craighead County voters will go to the polls next month to vote on a 4.2 mills tax increase to finance a bond issue to construct a 100-bed county general hospital.

County Judge Bill R. Clark said the election would be held either March 16 or March 23.

view this as a firm indication that people in Hempstead County not only care about their government but are informed and concerned.

Most legislators, do not send out questionnaires. I believe that this sort of communication between citizen and representative is the basis of our form of democratic government. I feel that any elected public official should be responsive, within the limits of his own conscience, to the people that he represents.

So much for the speech-making: now down to the facts. Here's how you felt.

Apollo 14, Crew Hit Halfway Mark for a Splashdown Tuesday

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 14 and its cargo of moon treasure plummeted today toward a Tuesday splashdown in the Pacific Ocean, its crew expressing hope that the space program might help achieve peace and understanding on earth.

Alan B. Shepard Jr., Edgar D. Mitchell and Stuart A. Roosa had little to do on their last full day in space. They monitored systems taking stellar navigation readings and rested for their homecoming.

They are to land at 4:04 p.m. EST Tuesday with their record cargo of 108 pounds of moon rocks and material. If they are on target, it will be Wednesday at the touchdown site. The recovery ship waits three miles west of the international date-line.

They are to appear on a final television program at 6:53 to-night, answering questions relayed from newsmen at the space center.

In a telecast to Mission Control Sunday night, they conducted scientific experiments and expressed thoughts on the space program and problems on earth.

"We're reminded as we look at that shimmering crescent that is earth that we still have fighting there," said commander Shepard, speaking for all three. "We are reminded that some men who have gone to Vietnam have not returned and that some are still being held there as prisoners of war."

"It is our wish tonight that we can in some way contribute through our space program to better understanding and peace throughout the world and help to rectify these situations."

Shepard said, "Communications through the space satellite will certainly go a long way toward solving the problems of the world—the problems of understanding between peoples of different nations and different countries."

He made the comments at the end of the 51-minute telecast in which the astronauts demonstrated manufacturing techniques which Shepard said "could benefit all peoples of the world."

It is hoped these techniques will be able to use the weightlessness of space to produce cast metals, medical vaccines and electronic crystals of purity and strength higher than possible on earth.

With the television camera focused on the space laboratory, Roosa explained each of the four experiments, which demonstrated how weightlessness overcomes some of the man-

Five Persons Are Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five persons were killed on the state's highways during the weekend. All died Friday night in a three-vehicle crash on Arkansas 7 near Dardanelle.

The victims, all members of the Dan Blocker Singers, were identified as Hart Jackson, 24, Loren Norman, 25, Simon Ganju, 26, Tony O'Neal, 21, and Angus McMasters, 21. All listed their addresses as near London (Pope County).

Police said the accident occurred when a tractor-trailer truck driven by B. H. Qualls Jr., 36, of Dover crossed the center line and hit the singers' Volkswagen bus. A car driven by James J. Hood, 33, of Jasper, then slammed into the wreckage.

Vietnamese Swarm Into Laos in Effort to Cut Enemy's Supply Route

U.S. Part Is Limited in Time, Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States declared today that the South Vietnamese-U.S. strike against Communist bases in Laos will be limited in "time and area" and will protect American lives in the course of further troop withdrawals.

"This limited operation is not an enlargement of the war," the State Department said in a policy statement.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said his understanding is that the operation in which the United States is supplying air support for thousands of South Vietnamese troops, will be limited to the area between the 16th and 17th parallel. That would keep it within the southern Laos panhandle and the region of the Communist supply center of Sepone.

McCloskey declined to define

6 American Helicopters Are Lost

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese troops swept into southern Laos today in an attempt to cut North Vietnam's Ho Chi Minh trail, something six years of American bombing has failed to do. Six U.S. helicopters were reported lost in the first waves.

American helicopters and South Vietnamese armored cars took the troops across the border, and the U.S. Command pledged its full air and artillery support. But the U.S. Command said no American ground combat forces or advisers would cross the border.

A communique said the 9,000 American troops who moved into the northwest corner of South Vietnam 10 days ago would act as a blocking force on the Vietnamese side of the border.

Field reports said four U.S. helicopters were shot down and two crashed due to mechanical trouble. Pilots reported heavy antiaircraft fire, but the reports indicated most of the crews were rescued.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel reported from the border that South Vietnamese troops made contact with North Vietnamese forces within 27 hours after they crossed the frontier. U.S. helicopter gunships attacked the enemy positions with rockets.

About a mile inside Laos, American Cobra helicopter gunships caught some more North Vietnamese troops in the open and fired rockets at them, but the results were not known.

Other pilots reported seeing 50 to 75 enemy about two miles from American howitzer batteries on the Vietnamese side of the border.

Wednesday Is Deadline for Week-End Items

This is a special notice to clubs, churches, and other organizations sending week-end announcement stories and pictures to The Star.

All stories and pictures announcing coming events expected to be published in Friday or Saturday editions must be delivered to the newspaper office Wednesday night for delivery first thing Thursday morning - or management reserves the right to omit publication. This 48-hour deadline is employed on advertising, and now we are forced to invoke it on news announcements - because organizations have gotten into the habit of waiting until Friday morning to swamp the news desk with more copy and pictures than can be handled on short notice.

Israel Will Refuse to Pull Back

By MARTIN ZUCKER
Associated Press Writer
JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel reportedly will refuse to pull all its troops back from the Suez Canal until it gets a peace agreement, but will leave the door open to a reduction of its forces along the front line with Egypt.

Informed sources say Premier Golda Meir will outline that position Tuesday before the Knesset, the Israeli parliament, in response to the demand made last Thursday by Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

In accepting a 30-day extension of the cease-fire along the canal, Sadat demanded that Israel make a "partial withdrawal" of its forces from the Suez during the truce period. He said Egypt in return would reopen the canal, which has been closed since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Informants said although most Israeli Cabinet members didn't consider Sadat's proposal serious, they felt Israel should not discount the possibilities it might present.

The sources said Israel would seek a clarification of what the Egyptians meant by "partial withdrawal"—if this would mean only a reduction of Israeli troop strength on the east bank of the canal or a pullback to a new line somewhere in the Sinai Desert.

The request for clarification is to be made through Gunnar V. Jarring, the U.N. mediator acting as go-between in the indirect peace talks Israel, Egypt and Jordan are holding in New York.

The sources said Mrs. Meir would also tell the Knesset her government is ready to enter negotiations to reopen the canal but will insist that Israeli ships be permitted passage—a demand Egypt has always rejected in the past.

Sadat did not mention Israeli shipping in his offer to open the waterway. He also did not say what Egypt would do if Israel did not agree to his demand for a partial withdrawal.

Egypt's official Middle East News Agency charged that Israeli troops are "heaping" sand dunes into the Suez Canal. The agency said this began Saturday night and was "proof that Israel wants to hamper the clearing" of the waterway.

The head of the Suez Canal Authority, Mashhour Ahmed Mashhour, said the canal could be reopened within four months. He told the newspaper Al-Ahram that despite 3½ years of military operations, there were only a few sunken objects to be removed, and the accumulation of silt had been minimal.

In Jordan, meanwhile, a spokesman in Amman for the Palestinian guerrillas said the guerrillas will not respect the cease-fire and will escalate operations against Israel.

Four Charged With Drug Possession

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Four persons have been charged with illegal possession of drugs following a raid on a residence here Saturday. Police said about $6,500 worth of drugs were seized during the raid.

The four were identified as John Woods, 60, and his wife, Helen, 29, both of Hot Springs; Clivester Weekley, 27, of Little Rock, and Gloria Bradley, 22, of Little Rock. Bond for the four was set at $5,000 each.

Police said seven other persons were charged with accessory to possession of illegal drugs.

Revenue Share Discusses Government Foes Work on Own Plan

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House opponents of President Nixon's $5-billion revenue-sharing plan are working on a strategy for helping hard-pressed states in other ways, trying to reduce demand for the administration program.

Key to the strategy is welfare reform, now given top priority by the House Ways and Means Committee. The committee will delay hearings on revenue sharing until late in the year, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., has said.

Mills and the ranking Republican member, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, have taken public stands against no-strings-tied revenue sharing with states and localities, but are supporting welfare reform.

The committee staff, it was understood, has been directed to draft several alternative welfare-financing provisions with one thing in common: "They would increase the Federal share of the cost."

Then, when the committee hears governors and local officials who are pushing hard for revenue sharing, it would be in position to say the states already are in line for substantial federal help.

Even a relatively modest reallocation of the welfare percentage paid by the federal government could add up to big figures.

The total welfare cost in the 1970 fiscal year, ended last June 30, was $13.15 billion, with the government paying $7.5 billion, or 57.2 per cent.

For the present fiscal year, it is estimated the total will jump to $17 billion and the federal share to $9.6 billion.

The proportion of welfare cost paid by the federal government varies from state to state, according to the level of benefits and services provided by each.

Significantly, the federal percentage is relatively low in big states with extensive programs, such as New York and California. And these are among states with the most severe fiscal problems. They would stand to gain substantially from a percentage of reallocation.

One aspect of the administration's welfare proposal would guarantee no state would be required to spend more than 90 per cent of the amount of local funds allocated to welfare in 1971. In other words, as the welfare load continues to increase, the federal government would pick up the tab for all the rise in costs.

When Mills attacked revenue sharing in one of his rare special House speeches last week, he listed a number of alternatives and emphasized a greater federal contribution in grant-in-aid programs.

What Ways and Means does with welfare could give ideas to other committee chairmen who have expressed doubts about revenue sharing.

Raise levels of State Services, especially in: Education - 40 per cent Roads and Highways - 40 per cent Welfare - 15 per cent obviously the priorities in needed improvements are heaviest in education and highway improvement.

The second question dealt with taxes. The overwhelming majority of you are opposed to increasing taxes before economy in government is achieved. 2. Keep taxes at present level: Yes - 68 per cent No - 32 per cent. Raise Taxes to Support increased services: Yes - 41 per cent No - 59 per cent.

Question three also concerned methods of taxing: 3. I Favor: A. 4 per cent sales tax: Yes - 18 per cent No - 82 per cent B. Removing Present Tax Exemption on utilities, Transportation, Manufacturing: Yes - 51 per cent No - 49 per cent C. Increasing Progressive Personal Income Tax: Yes - 31 per cent No - 69 per cent D. Conviction of Robbery Is Upheld

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court upheld today the robbery conviction and sentence of 7 to 21 years in prison for Eddie Morris, formerly known as Eddie Tate, in connection with a holdup in Forest City during racial troubles in 1969.

Tate was convicted in St. Francis County Circuit Court in connection with the holdup of a grocery store the night of Aug. 14, 1969. The store's only employee, William F. Epps, was stabbed during the robbery.

The high court opinion by Associate Justice Conley Byrd rejected 10 arguments asserted for reversal of the conviction. The high court also upheld a St. Francis County Circuit Court conviction of Johnny Harper in a companion case. Harper was sentenced to seven years in prison in connection with the same crime.

The Supreme Court also upheld a Pulaski County Circuit Court decision that Hallmark Loan & Investment Corp. is entitled to a certificate authenticating its existence as an industrial loan company under Act 111 of 1941.

Securities Commissioner Wilhoam F. Sherman had instituted suit challenging Hallmark's operation as an industrial loan company.

Hallmark had acted as an industrial loan institution since its organization in 1927. Act 111 provided that existing companies in 1941 might become industrial loan institutions by making written application to the state bank commissioner within 30 days after approval of the act.

The act took effect on April 2, 1941 and a letter dated April 1 of that year from Union Industrial, the former name of Hallmark, asked the commissioner to consider the letter as a formal application for a certificate.

The Supreme Court opinion by Associate Justice George Rose Smith said that "many of what would be the controlling facts have been lost in the mists of time," but the high court held that the letter and other correspondence was sufficient evidence on behalf of Hallmark under the circumstances.

Sanchez Gets High OEO Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today named Phillip V. Sanchez, 41-year-old administrator of Fresno County, Calif., to be assistant director of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Sanchez would become the highest ranking official of Mexican-American descent in the Nixon administration if confirmed by the Senate. Before he resigned recently, Hillary Sandoval held that distinction as head of the Small Business Administration.

Sanchez will head the OEO's operations office, which has been vacant since November when Nixon elevated Frank Carlucci to the job of OEO director.

In the $38,000-a-year job, Sanchez will be in charge of community action operations, state and local government liaison, Indian and migrant programs and training and technical assistance.

Winners were: high, Mrs. Charles Harrell; second, Miss Olive Jackson; consolation, Mrs. R.R. Jackson; game, Mrs. C.C. Lewis. Finger sandwiches were served with spiced tea and coffee.

Methodist Day Kindergarten

Makes Field Trip
On Wednesday, February 3, the children of Methodist Day Kindergarten made a field trip to the U.S. Area Post Office. Patrick LaGrone and Todd Burgess acted as doormen. Donna Stephenson and Dana Bohanan directed the children to the mailing slot where each child mailed a letter to himself. Later, under the guidance of the friendly postal employees, the group saw their letters processed from the cancelling machine on through the sorting process. The trip was preparation for a working unit in social studies when the children will set up their own post office to care for the valentines which they will bring for their classmates at kindergarten.

Mothers who helped in transporting and caring for the children were: Mrs. Tad Ohashi, Mrs. Ronnie Stephenson, Mrs. Charles W. Key, Jr., Mrs. James Belknap, and Mrs. H. F. Wotley.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Shortly after 7 p.m. Sunday as millions of television viewers in the New York metropolitan area were settling down in front of their sets, the sound stopped and the picture dissolved into something that looked like a heavy snow-fall.

A Manhattan electrical power failure had knocked out broadcasting on all local channels transmitting from the mast atop the blacked-out Empire State Building. For the next 2½ hours there was a good chance to measure the degree to which the individual is addicted to the use of that square box.

Paul Klein, a former NBC vice president in charge of audience measurement, says in a recent New York magazine article that his two decades of "watching people watch television" have convinced him that the public is "hooked, chained and otherwise enslaved" by television.

Suddenly deprived, what did we do? Many made phone calls trying to find out what happened, while most of us turned to our radios for an answer. Then we cast around for substitutes. Suddenly conversation, books and good, dependable radio were back in style.

Klein has his own explanation for the heavy TV-watching by the public. He believes that, contrary to their own opinions, people do not watch particular programs.

"You turn on the set because it is there—you can't resist," he says, "and you then settle down to watch that program among all those offered at a given time which can be endured with the least amount of pain and suffering."

He calls this his "Theory of the Least Objectional Program," and uses it to explain the enormous popularity of some mediocre programs and the failures of some very good ones.

This long-time student of viewers also is convinced that most of us lie to our friends and to ourselves—about our viewing habits. We are, he says, likely to believe that we really don't watch television much. We are also fond of demanding more news and public affairs shows on television while we actually have our sets tuned, by choice, to Flip Wilson or "Gunsmoke."

The most remarkable television over the weekend came to us live from the moon. The pictures of the astronauts moving around the lunar surface, one of them even taking a swing at a golf ball, were extraordinarily clear. The three networks provided thorough coverage, particularly through those moments of real suspense—the landing and lift-off on the lunar surface and the link-up later with the command capsule.

"Wildfire," a fine NBC documentary Friday night, was a filmed report of efforts, by plane and by men on the ground, to contain a huge forest fire that raged over thousands of timberland in Washington last summer, threatening a small town. It was graphically filmed and demonstrated the work of some unsung heroes.

Steele were in Paris, Ark., over the weekend with friends.

Walter Verhalen, III of Dallas spent the weekend with Mrs. J.O. Luck, Linda and James.

WIMMIN! — WILL MEN EVER UNDERSTAND 'EM

Dear Helen:

My wife says I have an anxiety complex because I would rather be early than late. She even wrote to you about it. Remember the letter concerning the husband who got ready half an hour ahead of time paced until his family "went up the wall"?

Well, I took the hint. The other night I made sure she knew when we were supposed to meet our friends. Then, after I was dressed, I quietly read a book. I did not point to the clock. I did not go out and start the car while she was getting on her girdle. I was calm and patient — and we were half an hour late!

But instead of learning her lesson, do you know what she told our friends? It was all my fault, she said, because she depended on me to prod her and there I was sitting relaxed and easy so she figured she had plenty of time.

Moreover, my change of character darn near did me in. A born pacer does not take easily to the "sit and be late" role.

Tell me, Helen, in the battle of the sexes, does the male ever win? — BACK TO ANIETY

Dear B to A:

Not unless the wife is suddenly struck dumb.

Moral: Don't change character in mid-life, if your family has come to depend on prodding. Those dawdlers NEED you. Actually, this is a good combination (and I speak from experience): Mr. Early married to Mrs. Late means they hit a compromise and arrive on time.

The Northwest: U.S. Cornucopia

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Columnist

We are apt to forget how much fine food comes from the Pacific Northwest.

But in Seattle, an organization is set up to broadcast across the country the good news of foods from Washington-Oregon areas. It is called the Pacific Kitchen, and Dee McGregor, a graduate of the University of Washington in home economics, is its director.

"Let's begin with Alaska king crab, fresh, frozen or canned. They are famous out here and are steadily being used more and more in the East and South. The white meat surrounded by pink appeals to the salad and casserole maker. All the meat comes from the huge crab claws. Some are six feet long.

"A slightly expensive item, perhaps. But crab meat is always sold at premium prices because everyone wants it," Miss McGregor explains.

The lively Pacific Kitchen director tells us with typically western assurance that Washington and Oregon are the largest growers of raspberries in the country.

"I'd say we grow most of the raspberries in the United States out here. We sell them fresh in June and frozen during the rest of the year. Our markets include New York, Boston and Chicago. We ship by air freight and it is so fast our berries, very perishable, hold up perfectly.

"Raspberries are also a somewhat expensive item. But everyone seems to love them," she comments.

But all northwestern food is not expensive.

"Idaho-Oregon sweet Spanish onions are remarkably sweet, you know. Some weigh as much as a pound apiece. They are not expensive but very delightful," she says, adding:

"We also handle Ala, a

Dee McGregor

en Delicious apples but these are handled by Washington State Apple Commission in Seattle. But the canned Bartlett pears of Oregon, Washington and California are a Pacific Kitchen interest, and fresh winter pears, such as Anjou, Bosc and Comice.

Dee McGregor has been director of the Pacific Kitchen for eight years, following a career in television and newspaper work. Her staff consists of three home economists, a photographer and an artist, writers and secretaries.

"We have been successful getting more and more people to know and enjoy our foods. Last year we did suffer a little as a result of the weakening general economy. But in this part of the country the tendency is to spend a little less than in other parts of the country on promoting foods but continuing to spend a set amount whether the economy is good or poor. For that reason we had the same amount to spend last year as we did in more prosperous times," she explains.

She grows extra enthusiastic when discussing the matter of genuine North Pacific halibut, either fresh or frozen.

"Certainly, it's one of the nicest fish you could eat. Also, it is cholesterol-free, making it an ideal food for men who are worried about future heart attacks."

UCLA Beats Southern Cal 64-60

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Smile, Bob Boyd, it only hurts for a little while.
"I don't think our loss to UCLA will have any lasting effect on my team, we've got a very high degree of mental toughness," says the Southern California basketball coach.
So it's back to the drawing board today for the Trojans after Saturday night's 64-60 loss to the Bruins.
The Boyd philosophy: never look back.
"Of course, the UCLA loss is still lingering in our minds today. But we don't feel that every time we win, we'll automatically win next time—nor do we feel that when we lose, we'll again lose automatically," Boyd said.
Boyd wasn't necessarily shrugging off the lost weekend, either.
"It was a very critical loss for us," said the quick-smiling, tall Trojan boss. "For one thing, the first loss for a basketball team is always critical (Southern California, the nation's No. 2-ranked club, now is 16-1).
"The inter-city rivalry between our schools always makes this particular loss more difficult. The advantage that it gives the winner in the Pacific-8 Conference, by remaining undefeated, is extremely tough for the loser.
"And, it gives us no chance for any further mistakes."
UCLA, the country's No. 3 club, built its over-all mark to 16-1 and Pacific-8 record to 5-0. Winner of the conference, of course, gets a berth in the NCAA playoffs for the national championship, which the Bruins have owned the past four years.
While Southern Cal missed the opportunity to top-ranked Marquette continued to make the best of its chances by throttling DePaul 84-55 for its 30th straight victory, tops in the country.
Penn, the No. 4 team, capitalized Columbia 92-79 in a crucial Ivy League battle. The Quakers, along with Marquette the only undefeated team in the Top Twenty, won their 18th this year, and 51st in their last 55.
Fifth-ranked Kansas turned back Nebraska 81-67; No. 6 Jacksonville whipped Oklahoma City 107-77; seventh-ranked South Carolina stopped Clemson 47-44; No. 8 Kentucky slugged Mississippi 121-86; ninth-ranked Western Kentucky slammed Middle Tennessee 87-73 and Syracuse started No. 10 LaSalle 75-68 in other action involving Top Ten clubs.
Southern Cal, emerging out of the Los Angeles shadows after years of UCLA basketball dominance, appeared to have the Bruins doornail-dead with a nine-point lead—59-50 with nine minutes left.
"We haven't lost many games going into the last quarter with a nine-point lead," said Boyd. "It was the shock of losing under those circumstances that hurt most."
It was this way:
The Bruins overcame the deficit with an 11-0 tear, then held off the Trojans with an uncharacteristic stall.
"It's good strategy when used against us and when we used it this time," said UCLA Coach John Wooden, "but I still don't like it."
There's no UCLA Syndrome at USC. Boyd's teams had beaten the mighty Bruins three out of the last four meetings and made the loss close.
Sidney Wicks played his best game of the season for UCLA, according to Wooden. He scored 24 points and had 14 rebounds, leading the Bruin backlash. Dennis Layton had 23 for USC, including six key buckets as the Trojans built their 59-50 margin.
Gary Brel got 26 points and Dean Meringer contributed 18 points and 14 assists as Marquette rolled to its 18th victory this year.
Pete took possession of first place in the Ivy League race after the Quakers' showdown battle with Columbia. Both went into the contest with 5-0 league records.
Kentucky grabbed first place

Robinson Pro Player of the Year

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Brooks Robinson, third baseman for the Baltimore Orioles, will receive the Arkansas' Professional Athlete of the Year for 1970 presented by the Charles T. Meyer Foundation for Excellence in Athletics.
This is the second time the Little Rock native has been chosen for the award by a panel of Arkansas sportswriters.
He will receive the award at 7 p.m. Friday at the Pleasant Valley Country Club. George Blanda, Oakland Raider quarterback, will be the principal speaker for the dinner.
Nominated for the amateur award are: Bill Montgomery, University of Arkansas quarterback; Jim Hamilton, Ouachita Baptist University, for his performance as a Fort Smith basketball player; Thomas Hill, Arkansas State University track star; Barney Hess, Arkansas State University pole vaulter; Jim Crawford, Harding College miller; Pat Miles, Hall High swimmer; Bill Burnett, University of Arkansas running back; Johnny Baker, Ouachita Baptist University running back and James Hamilton, Arkansas State University quarterback.

Blonde Lady in Oaklawn Feature

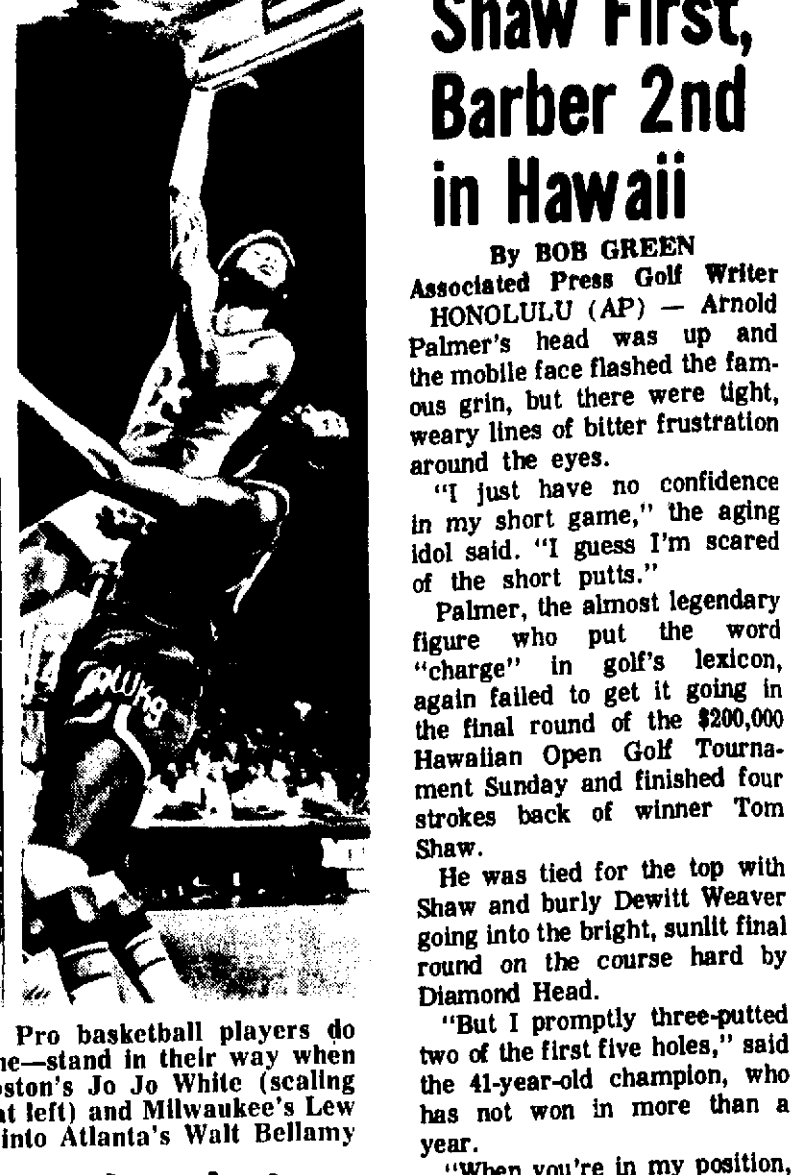

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Blonde Lady, owned by W. A. Lofton, heads a field of seven 3-year-old fillies in today's feature race at Oaklawn Park here.
Trained by C. L. Wonder, Blonde Lady will carry 113 pounds.
With a purse of $5,500, the other six 3-year-olds going the 5 1/2 furlongs include Purple Power, Pelani, Two Star Dream, Lapel Dutchess, Dancing Debbie and Mama Mel.
W. C. Partee's Sado held off stubborn Cangirod and a late rush by Kind R. Reception to win Saturday's $15,000 King Cotton Handicap.
Saving his speed for the stretch drive, Sado finished the 5 1/2 furlongs in the best time this year — 1:04 3/5 under ideal racing conditions. As second choice in the wagering, Sado returned $5.80, $3.60 and $3.40.
Cangirod returned $4.20 and $3.80 for second and Kind R. Reception paid $5.00 to show.
Jockey Dan Brumfield let Sado run off the pace for the first half as C. G.'s Count and Cangirod fought it out for the early lead. C. G.'s Count jumped in front out of the starting gate, but was beaten down quickly by Cangirod as the field of other horses moved down the back stretch.
At mid stretch, Sado moved up fast from the outside to nab Cangirod by a nose at the wire. Kind R. Reception negotiated a much stronger finish on the outside of Sado to be beaten by a slim neck.
An even $100 daily double was paid Saturday with the teaming of Dr. Galen with Joe Ebhardt aboard in the first and Fighting Steve in the second.
A crowd of 19,996 wagered $1,342,424.

Mazeroski, Russell Win Tournament

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Bill Mazeroski owns a golf course. Andy Russell hardly ever plays golf.
But the two teamed Sunday for a sudden-death victory in the $30,000 Astrojet Golf Tournament, an annual affair that pits football and baseball stars in 54-hole best-ball handicap competition, regardless of golfing experience.
Mazeroski, who has a 10-handicap, sank a four-foot birdie putt on the 17th hole to provide him and Russell with the $10,000 first prize.
The Pittsburgh Pirates second baseman and eight-time winner of the Golden Globe award, is owner of a nine-hole golf course in Rayland, Ohio. Russell, who has a 20-handicap, said, "This is the most golf I've ever played in my life."
"I was so nervous when Bill putted that I could hardly breathe," Russell, a Pittsburgh Steelers linebacker, said.

Oklahoma S. Runner Does as Predicted

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
Tom Von Ruden finally did it. The blond former Oklahoma State runner predicted he would run a sub-four-minute mile and he did.
However, Von Ruden said he was going to do it eight days ago at the Millrose Track Meet in New York—and the Olympic 1500-meters ace didn't accomplish his feat until this Saturday night at Fort Worth's 10-lap banked board track, capping the two-day meet.
Little matter though since it was also the first sub-four-minute mile indoors in the United States since Jim Ryun achieved the distinction three years ago in New York on Feb. 9, 1968, running a 3:57.5.
Von Ruden, running for the Pacific Coast Club, was caught in 3:59.4 at the Fort Worth Coaches Indoor Games and it was his first ever indoors under the magic mark. Jim Crawford, a Richardson, Tex., school-teacher helped immeasurably, setting a brisk pace and finishing in 4:01.4. Von Ruden trailed until he passed Crawford with two laps to go.
Von Ruden, who also won the 1,000-yard run in Toronto the night before in 2:08.2, said he was tired and had only three hours sleep.
"Sometimes being tired will relax you," he said. "That's what happened tonight."
What happened a week ago at the Millrose Games was a different story. Von Ruden, who was the defender at 1,000-yards there, requested a chance at Marty Liquori, Villanova's Olympian, in the mile.
"I'll beat the four minute mark for you if you put me in the mile," Von Ruden said. And since there has never been one in that famous meet, the promoter quickly accepted Tom.
He failed that night, running a 4:02.1, which placed him 10 yards behind Liquori, who won in 4:00.6. But this weekend was a different story.
In all there were meets in New York and Toronto on Friday night and two others on Saturday besides Fort Worth, in Baltimore and Seattle.
At Seattle, Kerry Pearce, of Australia tied his own world mark of 8:27.2 in winning the two-mile run on the 11-lap banked board track of the Coliseum.
The Texas El-Paso runner actually ran 8:27.1 but rules call for times to be clocked to the nearest fifth of a second. He easily whipped Poland's Henryk Szordykowski, a distant second

Colonels in Victory Over Utah

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Utah, riding a seven victory string, ran into a hotheaded Dan Isel Sunday. The rookie Kentucky center scored 48 points to lead a 130-118 Colonel victory.
Isel hit 15 of 21 floor shots in the first half, and 20 of 30 overall, to keep Kentucky in the game. Utah held a 69-68 half-time edge but managed only two points after the 118-116 tie with 5:48 remaining.
Merve Jackson led the Stars with 27 points. George Stone got 24.
In other ABA games, Denver beat Indiana 133-131; New York topped Memphis, 103-84; Pittsburgh thumped Carolina, 121-101; and the Floridians took Texas, 126-109.
In the National Basketball Association, Baltimore topped Detroit, 108-105; Boston defeated Chicago, 104-96; Atlanta nipped Cincinnati 121-118; Philadelphia laced the New York Knicks 127-99; Los Angeles slammed San Francisco 119-104; San Diego clipped Seattle 124-107; and Portland beat Cleveland 112-103.
Larry Cannon scored 29 points and had a key steal in Denver's overtime victory over Indiana, still 1 1/2 games behind Utah in the West.
Cannon tied the game at 120-all with 14 seconds remaining in regular time. He scored four points and made his theft in overtime play. Mel Daniels hit 34 points for the Pacers.
The New York Nets have no mercy on the Memphis Pros. They ran their season record to 4-0. Forward Rick Barry hit 34 points and had 13 assists.
The Pros were on their way with a 45-45 tie at halftime but the Nets ran the score to 71-58 after three quarters. Barry then struck for 15-straight points at the start of the final period.
Charley Williams shot 23 points and Steve Jones had 21 for the Pros.
Carolina hasn't won a game in Pittsburgh in its last eleven tries. The Condors grabbed an early seven-point lead and raced to victory with Stew Johnson got 28 points. Joe Caldwell and Bobby Verga each had 18 for the Cougars.
In the ABA Saturday, it was Indiana 110, New York 109 in overtime; Carolina 139, Kentucky 132; Utah topped Virginia, 127-122; and Denver edged Pittsburgh, 115-114.

State Defeats Abilene Christian

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas State University picked up its sixth straight victory and took over the Southland Conference lead with an 81-75 basketball victory over Abilene Christian Saturday night.
Arkansas State continued its balanced scoring attack as guard Allen Pruett scored 22 points followed by John Belcher with 18 and Steve Brooks with 14.
The Indians improved their season mark to 11-6 and captured their third straight SLC victory. Abilene and ASU were tied for the conference lead going into the game.
A-State hit 53 per cent of its shots from the field in the first half and were deadlocked at 40-all after holding an eight-point lead at one time during the first half.
Willie Calvert led the Wildcats with 25 points and Ronnie Hearnes added 20.

Noncontact Sports? Pro Basketball Players do not let anything—or anyone—stand in their way when the basket is in sight.

Al Feuerbach, the world indoor record holder in the shot put, won his specialty with a toss of 65 feet, 4 inches, well off his record toss of 68-11 at the same meet.
At Baltimore, Tony Greene of Maryland, captured a blanket finish 60-yard dash, nipping Zack Rogers of Norfolk State and the newest track sensation, Dr. Delano Meriwether. All three runners were caught in six seconds flat.
Meriwether, the 27-year-old hematologist at the Baltimore Cancer Research Center, who only took up the sport less than a year ago, has now raced indoors seven times, finishing first twice, second three times, third and fifth once each.
Eamonn O'Keefe, an Irish lad running for Florida University, won the outstanding performer award at the 11-lap banked board track in Baltimore, copping the 880-yard run in 1:50.4 and anchoring the victorious Florida two-mile relay team.
Brian McElroy, sitting out a year of ineligibility at Villanova after transferring from Kansas, won the Calvert Mile in 4:08.1 over Sam Bair of the Pacific Track Club.
Another world record toppled when George Frenn, a school teacher from North Hollywood, Calif., broke the 35-pound weight throw mark with a toss of 72 feet, 3 1/2 inches at a Long Beach, Calif., meet.
Harold Connolly, Frenn's teammate at the PCC, held the former mark.
On Friday night, Randy Matson, the Olympic shot put champion, beat Feuerbach, flipping the 16-pound ball 68 feet, 4 inches with Feuerbach second at 66-7 1/2.
Other winners in Toronto besides Von Ruden were teammate Chuck LaBenz, capturing the mile at Toronto's 11-lap banked board oval in 4:05.8 besting Szordykowski.
Reynaldo Brown, another Olympian, shattered the meet mark for the high jump with a 7-2 1/2 leap while the pole vault went to Dick Railsback of the PCC at 17 feet.
In New York at the Knights of Columbus meet on Madison Square Garden's 11-lap elastur turf banked track, Liquori raced to his 12th consecutive Garden victory, winning the 1,000 in 2:08.8, beating McElroy by five yards.
But the meet's top performer award went to Alabama's Jan Johnson, who broke the K of C pole vault mark with a 17-0 1/2 vault, bettering the former record of 16-6 by Bob Seagren. The only other meet record to fall was Al Hall's 67-6 toss in the 35-pound weight throw.
Jim Green of Kentucky won the 60-yard dash in 6.2, nipping Dr. Meriwether by inches while O'Keefe took the 880 in 1:53.8.
And at Ypsilanti, Mich., Kent State's Al Schoterman broke the NCAA record for the 35-pound weight with a toss of 66-5 1/2.

Canadian Girl Wins Figure Skating Title

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (AP) — Karen Magnussen, having conquered one of her most-feared foes, has but one more to defeat in her bid for the world championship in women's figure skating.

And even before Karen defeated Janet Lynn of the United States for the North American title Saturday, she was touted by many experts in attendance at the three-day competition as the next world champion.

The 18-year-old, three-time Canadian champion said before the continental contest that Austrian Beatrix Schuba was her other major competitor.

"But Beatrix is no free-skater," said Max Gould of Toronto, a former Canadian Figure Skating Association judge. "She's the world's best skater in figures, but she can't come close to Karen in free skating."

Miss Schuba confirmed the opinion when she fell once and nearly fell a second time in her free-skating performance in European championships Saturday at Zurich, Switzerland. But the defending world champion again won the European title on the strength of her marks in compulsory figures which count for 50 per cent of the total marks.

Miss Magnussen beat Miss Lynn in both the figures Friday and the free-skating performance Saturday which earned the North Vancouver, B.C., skater a standing ovation from the crowd of more than 4,000.

Miss Magnussen even had her opposition enthralled. "I just love Karen's skating," said Miss Lynn, a 17-year-old skater from Rockford, Ill., who had taken the title over Miss Magnussen in the last North American championship two years ago.

"She does even better under pressure and I knew she would skate well."

Jim Sladky and Judy

Schwomeyer of Wilmington, Del., took the dance title, followed by Harvey and Ann Miller of Drexel, Pa., and John Johns and Mary Campbell of Lansing, Mich.

John Misha Petkevish of Great Falls, Mont., won the men's skating title and Ken Shelley and JoJo Starbuck of Los Angeles and Mark and Melissa Militano of New York City finished 1-2 in the dance event.

Guerin Not Worried About Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Richie Guerin isn't worried about the Cincinnati Royals. The coach of the Atlanta Hawks has enough problems of his own and the biggest one is ... the Cincinnati Royals.

The Hawks edged the Royals 121-118 Sunday night and pulled to within 3½ games of Cincinnati in the battle for the second and last playoff spot in the National Basketball Association's Central Division.

"Getting into the playoffs would make our season," said Guerin. "I suppose Johnny Green being out will hurt Cincy, but I'm not really worried about them. I'm worried about us winning. We're still four games behind in the loss column and we're going to have to keep winning to catch them."

Green, oldest player in the NBA at 37, scored 30 points before a pulled groin muscle forced him to the sidelines.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia handed the New York Knicks their third straight setback 127-99, Boston downed Chicago 104-96, Baltimore shaded Detroit 108-105, Los Angeles trounced San Francisco 119-104, Portland turned back Cleveland 112-103 and San Diego walloped Seattle 107.

In the ABA, it was Pittsburgh 121, Carolina 101; New York Nets 103, Memphis 84; Floridians 126, Texas 109; Denver 133, Indiana 131 in overtime and Kentucky 130, Utah 118.

Atlanta opened a 91-77 lead over Cincinnati late in the third period before Norm Van Lier and Green sparked a rally that edged the Royals in front 107-106 with five minutes left. But Pete Maravich scored four points in the final 1½ minutes to nudge the Hawks back ahead.

Van Lier followed Green in the scoring with 28 points and Tom Van Arsdale had 25. Lou Hudson paced Atlanta with 27, Walt Bellamy had 25 and Maravich 24.

Philadelphia completed New York's lost weekend behind Archie Clark's 33 points and Billy Cunningham's 28. The 76ers led by only eight points with 7:46 but Wally Jones canned two free throws, Clark added a field goal and foul and Jim Washington sank a free throw to seal the triumph and lift the winners to within 3½ games of the pace-setting Knicks in the Atlantic Division.

John Havlicek and Jo Jo White paced a second-half comeback as Boston wiped out a 12-point halftime deficit and ended Chicago's six-game winning streak. Havlicek scored 11 of his 32 points in the third period and White dropped in 11 of his 24 in the final quarter. Bob Love led the Bulls with 32.

Baltimore squandered most of a 13-point halftime lead but hung on to defeat Detroit with Earl Monroe scoring 25 points. Dave Bing of the Pistons took game honors with 26.

Foyt Taking Break After Pole Position

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A. J. Foyt went back to Texas for a breather today, the pole position for Sunday's Daytona 500 stowed away in his traveling bag.

With his departure, to return at midweek, speed weeks at Daytona International Speedway moved into a final five days of activity that includes five auto races leading up to the 13th running of the $200,000 classic.

The week's schedule includes: —A pair of 125-mile races for Grand National stock cars Thursday, from which the 38 starters below the front row positions will be selected for America's most prestigious stock car event.

—The Citrus 250 for NASCAR Grand American cars of the Mustang, Camaro and Javelin class on Friday. The race carries a purse of $35,000 and utilizes the speedway's 3.81 mile track-road course.

—The 100-mile Inver House Grand Prix for open-cockpit cars of the formula Ford, formula Vee class, in this case called formula "100s." It runs Friday over the track-road course.

—The annual Permatex 300 for late model sportsman cars Saturday, carrying $36,000 in prize money.

All classes of machinery have periods of practice beginning today, including the Grand National cars. Some of these still must post official lap times in order to gain spots in Thursday's 125-milers.

Foyt and defending Grand National champion Bobby Isaac won the two front row starting positions Saturday, when 28 other drivers posted times to be assured of berths in the qualifying events.

Foyt, 35-year-old three-time Indianapolis winner, flashed around the 2.5-mile trioval at 182.744 miles an hour to grab the pole position from a stunned group of NASCAR regulars.

Foyt, driving the Glen Wood Mercury, hadn't done anything like that in practice. And he admitted he had "sandbagged" a bit to confuse the other drivers—that is, he had been turning laps slower than he was capable of doing.

One of the all-time high money winners in racing and now a millionaire rancher in Texas, Foyt picked up $5,000 for his effort and not only assured himself of the inside front row spot Sunday but will head up one of the 125-milers, each of which carries $5,000 to win.

Isaac, a 33-year-old veteran of the South's bull ring ovals before taking to the big speedways, posted 180.050 m.p.h. for the other front row spot and was paid $1,000.

his 32 points in the second half as San Diego drubbed Seattle, Jerry West's 37 points and Wilt Chamberlain's 22 rebounds helped Los Angeles whip San Francisco and Geoff Petrie scored 12 of his 24 points in the third period to trigger Portland's victory over Cleveland, which was led by Bobby Smith's 28 points.

Saturday night, it was Philadelphia 118, Cincinnati 109; Chicago 109, New York 102; Phoenix 119, Cleveland 91; Los Angeles 115, San Francisco 108 and Milwaukee 111, San Francisco 85.

To keep our drivers alive by keeping them alert and informed—was the purpose in the Agricultural Extension Service bringing together the group pictured above.

Pictured left to right: Dolores McBride, Extension Home Economist; Mrs. Alphonso Denham, Associate Extension Home Economist; Mrs. Kenneth Petre, Girl Scout Leader; Paul G. Henley, City of Hope - Director Parks Department; Will V. Rutherford, Hope Public Schools; Freddy McCulley, Deputy Sheriff; Thomas J. Barber, Safety Director Postal Department; Gail Sinyard, Corn Belt Hatcheries; Elmer Smith, 4-H Adult Leader, Montgomery-Smith Automobile Dealer; Mrs. Velma Cox, Manager, Shanhouse Garment Factory; Tommy Holt, President Hope High Council, Richard Stuart, Hope High Executive Representative; Rusty Quillin, Vice-President Hope High Student Council; Calvin Caldwell, County Extension Agent; State Police Captain Milton Mosier, District Commander; Gene Allen, Hope Star, not pictured.

These leaders were concerned with drivers being alert-to "defend" themselves in the frequent-occurring accident situations. They were concerned about getting Hempstead County drivers concerned enough that the drivers will prepare themselves with a knowledge and consciousness of defensive driving measures.

This planning group is promoting an 8-hour Defensive Driving Short Course to be taught by Sergeant Ray Davis in four 2 hour sessions, 7:00 - 9:00 p.m., February 18, 25, March 4, 11, at the Red River Vocational School.

The Agricultural Extension Service is sponsoring this activity with an educational interest involving the people of Hempstead County in protecting themselves and providing a safer environment.

State Police Captain Milton Mosier expressed the concern of the Police Department.

Dolores McBride, Extension Home Economist, led group discussion in this united effort of promoting the defensive driving activity. Each person presented contributed interest and ideas of his group in supporting the educational effort.

Others that were involved in promoting previously held short courses are also encouraged to continue their support.

Join over 360 Hempstead County Drivers who have completed the Defensive Driving Short Course. Enroll your "family" by calling the Agricultural Extension Service 777-5771.

This will also provide an opportunity for drivers to make-up sessions missed and received a certificate of completion.

Bowie Course in Maryland Opens Season

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The astronauts of horse racing. That's what you could call Joseph V. McLoone and Milton Feldman.

McLoone is general manager and Feldman director of public relations for the Bowie Race Course in Maryland which opens a 59-day meeting today.

They hold the same positions during the summer at Freehold

Raceway, a harness racing track in New Jersey. Thus, in an imaginary sense, they travel between planets in the horse racing world from the thoroughbreds to the trots.

The $100,000 Campbell Handicap on April 3 features the Bowie meeting, but the first 100-grander of 1971 is listed for this Saturday. That will be at Santa Anita in California with the running of the Charles H. Strub Stakes for 4-year-olds.

Also scheduled for this weekend is the $50,000 Bougainvillea Handicap at Hialeah in which Fort Marcy, the 1970 Horse of the Year, may make his first start as a 7-year-old.

Other features this weekend include the $20,000 Southern Maryland Handicap at Bowie and the $20,000 Pelletieri Handicap at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans.

Ack Ack reaffirmed his role as the winter book favorite for the $145,000 Santa Anita Handicap next month by winning the San Pasqual Handicap at the California oval last Saturday.

Ridden by Willie Shoemaker, the 5-year-old scored by three-quarters of a length over Delaware Chief as the $3.80 favorite.

Ack Ack carried top weight of 129 pounds in winning his first start for his new owners, the Forked Lightning Ranch of E. E. Fogelson and his movie star wife Greer Garson. They purchased the former Cain Hoy Stable colorbearer from the estate of the late Capt. Harry Guggenheim of New York.

True North, $10.80, found a hole along the rail and won the Seminole Handicap at Hialeah by two lengths over Native Roy-

Boston Streak Is Ended at 19 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Boston's National Hockey League home ice winning streak has ended at 19 games but don't blame Minnesota goalie Gump Worsley if he doesn't feel exactly like celebrating today.

Worsley's acrobatic goaltending job helped the North Stars to a 4-4 tie against the booming Bruins Sunday night—the first home game Boston has failed to win since last Nov. 15.

The 41-year-old Minnesota goalie stopped 63 shots but Boston rallied on third-period goals by Ken Hodge and John Bucyk to salvage the tie after the North Stars had bunched three goals in the opening period while being outshot by the Bruins 25-15.

Elsewhere in the NHL Sunday, Gordie Howe scored two goals and Detroit trimmed California 5-2, St. Louis dropped Philadelphia 6-2, Toronto tripped Buffalo 4-3 and Bobby Hull's 544th career goal gave Chicago a 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

In Saturday's action, New York edged Vancouver 5-4, Los Angeles ripped Montreal 6-3, Toronto topped Philadelphia 4-2, Boston nipped Buffalo 4-3 and Chicago rapped Minnesota 6-2.

Boston fell three victories short of the NHL's home ice winning streak record set by another Bruin team in 1929-30.

Worsley must have thought he was in a shooting gallery in the opening period when the Bruins rocketed 25 shots at him but Minnesota came out of the period leading 3-0 on goals by Judd Droin, Charlie Burns and Bill Goldworthy.

Don Marcotte and Wayne Carleton broke through Worsley in the second period for Boston while Lou Nanne connected for the North Stars. Then came the third period goals by Hodge and Bucyk—two of 23 shots the Bruins fired at Worsley in the final 20 minutes.

Bobby Orr took 13 shots for Boston, three short of the NHL record held by New York's Rod Gilbert. The tie gave the Bruins a seven-point edge over the idle Rangers in the NHL East.

Howe scored his 17th and 18th goals of the season for Detroit and the Red Wings ended a five-game winless streak by whipping California. Red Berenson and Arnie Brown, both acquired in trades last week by the Wings, had two assists each and the Golden Seals dropped their fifth straight game.

Toronto scored goals on its first two shots of the game and went on to whip Buffalo. Dave Keon beat Roger Crozier in the opening minute of play as the Sabre goalie injured his back. Replacement Joe Daley surrendered a first-shot goal to George Armstrong and the Leafs went on to the victory.

Toronto defenseman Jim Dorey, who holds the NHL single game penalty minute record with 38, accumulated 32 Sunday, with three misconducts and a minor.

Blues Winner Over Flyers in NHL Play

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The St. Louis Blues, playing under a new coach who says he really doesn't want the job, skated to a 6-2 victory over the Philadelphia Flyers Sunday in a National Hockey League game.

The new coach, Scotty Bowman, whipped Philadelphia in a nationally televised game. Bowman, the Blues' general manager, took over for Al Arbour, who has decided to return to active play.

Hull tied Maurice Richard for second place on the alltime scoring list behind Howe and gave the Black Hawks the only goal they needed to beat Pittsburgh. Howe's pair Sunday gave him a career total of 773.

Goalie Tony Esposito recorded his fifth shutout of the season as the Hawks maintained their 20-point West Division lead over St. Louis.

man, watched his predecessor, Al Arbour face Philadelphia as a defenseman. And if Arbour looked to the sidelines, he was watching his predecessor, too, because Bowman coached the Blues for three years before Arbour succeeded him.

Improve your sheltered life.

Heat electrically.

The greatest thing since fire is no fire. And you'll really warm up to the economy of electric heat, too.

Many factors, ranging all the way from the size of your home to how warm you keep it, are involved in determining the actual cost of home heating.

Consider original equipment and installation cost . . . and the cost to operate that equipment.

Consider how much you'll spend for service and maintenance.

Will you redecorate because you want to . . . or because you have to?

Life expectancy of your home's heating equipment will determine how much it depreciates every year . . . and how much you should set aside for replacement.

And, at resale time, will the heat you use today be the heat that's really modern tomorrow?

Think about it.

Then call your electric heat dealer or one of our heating specialists who can help you improve your sheltered life.

Instructions in Gillham Dam Hearing

By DALA MCKINSEY
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal Judge G. Thomas Eisele instructed both sides during a hearing today on whether to halt construction of the Gillham Dam on the Cossatot River that the purpose of the hearing was not to determine the merits of the dam.

He said the purpose of the hearing was to determine whether a temporary injunction against constructing the dam in November should be made permanent.

Eisele said that it was not the function of a U.S. District Court to "substitute its opinion" for the Congress or the President.

Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana is representing a group of conservationists who oppose the dam project.

The suit seeking an injunction was filed against the U.S. Corps of Engineers to halt construction of the dam. The dam has been authorized by Congress to halt damage from flooding in the areas. Several cities in the area of the proposed dam have entered the suit with the Corps of Engineers. They are in support of the dam and have said they intend to use water created by the reservoir.

In outlining his case, Arnold said that a description of the project and several procedural matters did not comply with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

Arnold told the court today that the engineers had not considered "many alternatives" to the dam, including structural construction, which he said would alleviate flooding.

Asst. U.S. Attorney Walter G. Riddick said the government feels that the case "has no business in this court or any other court."

He said the case "involved a declaration of Congressional Policy."

facturing problems caused by the gravity of the earth.

Liquids were transferred between containers, metals were cast in a small heat chamber, solutions of different liquids were separated and heat flow and convection were measured.

The liquid transfer test was conducted with two tanks, one with and one without baffling. In the unbaffled tank, the liquid tended to stick to the sides and flowed unevenly. In the other, the baffles controlled the flow. The results could be important in the design of future space refueling systems and in certain manufacturing processes.

The liquid separation that demonstrated an engineering approach to separation without the presence of sedimentation and heat convection, which cause problems in earth's gravity. Roosa said this could have an important effect on medical and biological research and might lead to the manufacture of pure vaccines in space.

During the heat flow and convection demonstration, the astronauts measured the effect on different kinds of gases and fluids. The information could be used for space manufacturing processes.

Over a period of several hours, the spacemen processed 18 different easily melted metals and alloys in the heat chamber. The specimens will be examined on earth, but experts expect them to have cooled uniformly and thus have more strength than similar metals cast on earth.

Many scientists believe that orbiting space laboratories eventually could be used to manufacture such items as perfectly round ball bearings, precision optical lenses and super-strong materials.

The astronauts' only complaint was that the horde of rocks gathered on the moon cramped the cabin of the command ship Kitty Hawk.

Scientists began preparing the lunar receiving laboratory here for the receipt of the 108 pounds of rocks which Shepard and Mitchell gathered at one of the oldest areas of the moon, the Fra Mauro highlands. They may hold secrets to the creation of the moon and our earth and solar system.

Also crowding the space explorers was the bulky, 80-pound docking probe from the nose of the command ship. It had given the astronauts trouble when they attempted to hook up with the lunar module shortly after

Watson Chapel to Comply With Order

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The Watson Chapel School Board voted Sunday night to comply with a federal court order to desegregate the district's schools.

The board, however, adopted a resolution which said the decision to comply with the order was done with "great reluctance."

The resolution called for the board's attorneys to appeal the desegregation order and ask for a "stay of execution" from the U.S. Supreme Court.

About 5,000 Watson Chapel School District patrons met Sunday afternoon to discuss whether to comply with the desegregation order.

Sterling West, a member of the Watson Chapel Taxpayers Association, asked the group to defy the order and take their children to neighborhood schools and demand they be educated there.

No formal action was taken by the patrons, but most who attended seemed to support West's suggestion.

U.S. District Judge Oren Harris of El Dorado had ordered the Watson Chapel School Board to desegregate the system by noon Thursday. He said if the desegregation order was not put into effect, members of the school board and the superintendent will be fined $350 a day for each day the desegregation plan is disobeyed. In addition, Harris said, the board members and the superintendent will be imprisoned until they comply with the order.

Harris said if the desegregation plan was not implemented, he would put the desegregation order into effect himself and place the Watson Chapel Schools under the direction of the county Board of Education and the state Education Department.

West said the federal government was "tearing down" the public school system. He said it was time to "stand up" to the federal government.

"We're out here for quality education," West said. "We know our schools better than they do. The schools still belong to us."

FEDERATED CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

Mrs. E. M. Nelson was hostess to the Anna P. Strong Federated Club in its first meeting of the 1971-72 club year, on Friday, January 29, 1971, with eight members present.

A very interesting session was held which included a "taped resume" of the "Anna P. Strong Club in 1970", by the president; reports from civic meetings attended by club members, i.e. Kiwanis Club meeting on "narcotics"; the "blood bank" meeting held at Lonoke Baptist Church. The Anna P. Strong Club was delegated to sponsor "adult education of the drug problem in Hope." Much discussion on local problems was held and tentative plans were made to help cope with these problems.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and a "good time was enjoyed by all."

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Veronica Phillips. Mrs. Estelle Spearman, President; Esther Hicks, Reporter.

Costly Paintings Are Missing

LONDON (AP) — Peggy Guggenheim, American patroness of the arts, says a Picasso and nine other modern paintings have been stolen from her $12 million collection at her Italian home in Venice.

Mrs. Guggenheim, 72, was visiting friends here when informed of the theft. She declined to estimate the value of the paintings Sunday, but said they were worth "thousands."

launching Jan. 31.

The trouble is believed to be a foreign object, perhaps ice, that lodged in the mechanism, then dislodged. Whatever it was, it cleared up and the two ships had no trouble docking after Shepard and Mitchell launched themselves from the moon.

Normally the probe would be discarded with the lunar module, but Mission Control asked the astronauts to bring it home for inspection.

The control center instructed them Sunday night to tie the probe securely in the lower right hand equipment bay.

Asked whether he understood the instructions, Roosa replied: "When it came to the point about all the rope tying, I was glad I'm flying with two sailors."

Shepard is a Navy captain and Mitchell a Navy commander. Roosa is an Air Force major.

the time limitation. Under questioning he said that the limits determined by South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu would apply to U.S. air support also.

President Nixon made the basic decision on striking at the North Vietnamese sanctuaries recently, McCloskey said. He declined to be more specific.

The eight-point statement on U.S. policy promised an announcement by President Nixon in April on further withdrawals of U.S. forces, linking this to the Lao operation.

It also sought to meet any charges that the operation conflicts with the Cooper-Church restriction on U.S. operations in Indochina by saying that the new move "is consistent with statutory requirements."

As the Defense Department had done Sunday night, the comprehensive policy statement today pledged that no American ground combat forces or advisers would cross into Laos.

It repeated the South Vietnamese government's definition of the objective of the operations as being to destroy supplies and forces concentrated in Laos by the North Vietnamese.

"The operation will promote the security and safety of American and allied forces in South Vietnam," the statement said, "and is consistent with statutory requirements."

"It will make the enemy less able to mount offenses and (will) strengthen South Vietnam's ability to defend itself as U.S. forces are withdrawn from South Vietnam. It will protect American lives."

In other points the U.S. described the thrust as "measures of self defense being taken by the Republic of Vietnam ... fully consistent with international law."

It disclosed that South Vietnam is reporting its action to the U.N. Security Council, to Britain and Russia as co-chairmen of the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina and to the governments of Canada, Poland, and India which form an International Control Commission for the Indochinese countries.

The strategic goal behind the new drive is to keep the enemy from mounting an offensive while U.S. conduct of the war is being turned over to South Vietnam.
